What motivates you to help lead the James River Expedition? What do you most hope to learn, experience, and share?

An important part of the commitment you will make is to work with JRA staff to assist leading one of three successful Expeditions for students from throughout the watershed. How would your teaching style contribute to a positive experience for a diverse group of students?

Application continued on following page...

What strengths as an educator, leader, and collaborator would you bring to the Expedition?

The Expedition will involve moderately strenuous activity, including paddling canoes, portaging gear, sleeping outside each night, and dealing positively with discomforts such as bugs and rain. Please describe your experience with the challenges of the outdoors.

The Expedition will require you to be away from home for one 6-day long trip, as well as pre-trip meetings with students & educators. Will you be able to fully commit to participation in this program by May 2019? Do you have any significant concerns for participating in the James River Expeditions?
